LOCK HAVEN UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY ACCEPTABLE USE POLICY

1. Purpose
This policy addresses the use of information technology resources (IT resources) at Lock Haven University of Pennsylvania (“the university”). IT resources are intended to support the university’s instructional, research, and administrative operations.

2. Scope
This policy applies to all users of IT resources owned or operated by Lock Haven University of Pennsylvania. Users include students, faculty, staff, contractors, and guest users of computer network resources, equipment or connecting resources. Use of the university’s IT resources signifies agreement to comply with this policy.

3. Objective
The objective of this policy is to create a framework to ensure that IT resources are used in an appropriate fashion, and support the university’s mission and institutional goals.

4. Policy
Use of the university’s IT resources is a privilege and signifies agreement to comply with this policy. Users are expected to act responsibly, and follow the university’s policies and any applicable laws related to the use of IT resources. This policy provides regulations to assure IT resources are allocated effectively.

While the university recognizes the role of privacy in an institution of higher learning, and will endeavor to honor that ideal, there should be no expectation of privacy of information stored on or sent through university-owned IT resources, except as required by law. For example, the university may be required to provide information stored in IT resources to someone other than the user as a result of court order, investigatory process, or in response to a request authorized under Pennsylvania’s Right-to-Know statute (65 P.S. §67.101 et seq.). Information stored by the University may also be viewed by technical staff working to resolve technical issues.

5. Definitions
Information Technology (IT) resources include, but are not limited to, all university owned or operated hardware, software, computing equipment, systems, networks, programs, personal data assistants, cellular phones, fax, telephone, storage devices, cable television, input/output, connecting devices via either a physical or wireless connection regardless of the ownership of the device connected to the network, and any electronic device issued by the university. IT resources include all electronic media, voice, video conferencing and video networks, electronic mail, and related mediums such as blogs, wikis, websites, and electronic records stored on servers and systems.

6. Responsibilities
A. Responsibilities of Users of IT Resources
   1. Respect the intellectual property of authors, contributors, and publishers in all media.
   2. Protect user account identification, password information, and all system(s) access from unauthorized use. Every user is accountable for all activities done via their account.
3. Report lost or stolen devices, especially devices that contain private or university information to the IT Department within 24 hours of discovery of the loss.
4. Adhere to the terms of software licenses and other contracts. Persons loading software on any university computer must adhere to all licensing requirements for the software. Except where allowed by university site licenses, the copying of university-licensed software for personal use is a violation of this policy.
5. Comply with federal, state, and local laws, relevant university personal conduct regulations, and the terms and conditions of applicable collective bargaining agreements. Applicable laws include, but are not limited to, those regulating copyright infringement, copyright fair use, libel, slander, and harassment.
6. Become acquainted with laws, licensing, contracts, and university policies and regulations applicable to the appropriate use of IT resources. Users are expected to use good judgment and exercise civility at all times when utilizing IT resources, and respect the large, diverse community utilizing these resources in a shared manner.
7. Understand the appropriate use of assigned IT resources, including the computer, network address or port, software, and hardware.
8. University business conducted by e-mail will be via the University’s mail server accessed by the <username>@ihup.edu account assigned to the individual by the IT Department. Electronic mail should never be considered an appropriate tool for confidential communication and any content should adhere to the responsibilities put forth in this policy. Messages can be forwarded or printed, and some users permit others to review their e-mail accounts. Message content can be revealed as part of legal proceedings. Finally, messages are sometimes not successfully delivered due to a technical issue requiring authorized IT personnel to review message content as part of the troubleshooting process.

B. Prohibited Uses of IT Resources

1. Providing false or misleading information to obtain or use a university computing account or other IT resources.
2. Unauthorized use of another user’s account and attempting to capture or guess passwords of another user.
3. Attempting to gain or gaining unauthorized access to IT resources, files of another user, restricted portions of the network, an operating system, security software, or other administrative applications and databases without authorization by the system owner or administrator.
4. No servers, switches, routers, hubs, wireless hubs, or any other multi-host connection devices are permitted to be operated by any user without express written permission of the IT Department.
5. Performing any act(s) that interfere with the normal operation, proper functioning, security mechanisms or integrity of IT resources.
6. Use of IT resources to transmit abusive, threatening, or harassing material, chain letters, spam, or other communications prohibited by law.
7. Copyright infringement, including illegal sharing of video, audio, software or data.
8. Excessive use that overburdens or degrades the performance of IT resources to the exclusion of other users. This includes activities which unfairly deprive other users of access to IT resources or which impose a burden on the university. Users must be considerate when utilizing IT resources. The University reserves the right to set limits on a user through quotas, time limits, and/or other mechanisms.
9. Intentionally or knowingly installing, executing, or providing to another, a program or file, on any of the IT resources that could result in the damage to any file, system, or network. This includes, but is not limited to computer viruses, Trojan horses, worms, spyware or other malicious programs or files.

10. Excessive or prohibited personal use by employees.

11. Use of the university IT resources for personal profit, commercial reasons, non-university fundraising, political campaigns or any illegal purpose.

a. The prohibition against using university information technology resources for personal profit does not apply to:

   a. Scholarly activities, including the writing of textbooks or preparation of other teaching material by faculty members; or

   b. Other activities that relate to the faculty member’s professional development.

   c. Other activities as approved by the University President

12. Non-authorized solicitations on behalf of individuals, groups, or organizations are prohibited.

7. Procedures

1. Violations of this policy will be reported to appropriate levels of administrative oversight, depending on the statutes and policies violated. Suspected violations of federal and state statutes and local ordinances shall be reported to the Director of Public Safety (chief of campus police) for official action.

2. Non-statutory violations of the Acceptable Use Policy, such as “excessive use,” may be reported to the Chief Information Officer, the Director of Human Resources, the Dean of Student Affairs and/or the Director of Public Safety (chief of campus police).

3. A university employee or student who violates this policy risks a range of sanctions imposed by relevant university disciplinary processes, including denial of access to any or all IT resources. He or she also risks referral for prosecution under applicable local, state or federal laws.

4. The University reserves the right to take immediate action in disabling accounts and/or blocking network access in the event the usage policy is violated and the offending action is detrimental to other users or IT resources.

5. The University President's Senior Staff – via the Information Technology Department – is responsible for recommending the university's Acceptable Use Policy. Questions regarding the applicability, violation of the policy or appropriate access to information should be referred to the Chief Information Officer.

8. Publications Statement:

This policy should be published in the following publications:

1. Administrative Manual
2. Student Handbook
3. University Catalog
4. University Website

9. Distribution
1. All Employees
2. All Students
3. All affiliates with access to IT resources at the University
