SPAIN

Universidad Loyola Andalucía, Córdoba and Seville

<https://www.uloyola.es>

The Location

Universidad Loyola Andalucía provides LHU students the opportunity to study in one of two incredible cities in Andalucía—Seville and Córdoba. Both campuses are located in Andalucía, the southernmost region in Spain. Seville, a two thousand year old metropolis, is home to 700,000 people and sits along the Guadalquivir River. Landmarks such as the Real Alcazar (a shooting location for TV show Game of Thrones) and the Tower of Gold mark the oldest sections of the city. Seville is known for its sun and spirit. There is never a shortage of things to do whether it's a night out for tapas or an afternoon stroll through the orange tree lined plazas of Barrio Santa Cruz.

Córdoba is another vibrant city. Moderate in size, it is home to 325,000 citizens. Students who chose to study in Córdoba will experience the lingering influence of the Muslim, Jewish and Christian coexistence that defined the city for centuries. This is best exemplified by one of the city's most recognizable landmarks—the Mezquita-Catedral, which literally means mosque-cathedral. Córdoba today is home to a vibrant social scene, open-air cafés, and a large student population. Whichever city you choose for your study abroad experience, you will no doubt experience everything that this rich region of Spain has to offer.

The University

Universidad Loyola Andalucía is a private Jesuit university. It has its origins in the Faculty of Economic and Business School of Córdoba, which was founded in 1963. In 2011, Universidad Loyola Andalucía became fully accredited under its new designation. The university focuses on student-centered education. The average class size is twenty students, and academic guidance is available from the beginning of the term. Loyola also has partnerships with 25 different countries around the world, which contributes to an international learning community.

Academics

The Universidad Loyola Andalucía offers a wide variety of courses taught in English, and exchange students are free to choose any available courses. The subject area chosen may determine which campus you attend. Exchange students are also offered a free express Spanish language course at the beginning of their stay.

Housing

The University is not a residential campus. Exchange students usually live in rented apartments with other students. The International Office at Loyola collaborates with exchange students to help them find accommodation since it has agreements with housing agencies such as Solrent, Flannist and Room Sevilla. These agencies guarantee quality living arrangements. Photos of example apartments can be found on www.solrent.es.

Air Travel

Students are responsible for making their own travel arrangements. Detailed information is provided at orientation.

Tuition - LHU students continue to pay LHU tuition and fees while attending the Universidad Loyola Andalucía. Students are billed for tuition and fees plus an additional $150 International Service Fee. Keep in mind that all financial aid can apply toward your study in Spain since you are participating in an LHU sponsored program. Students do not pay any tuition or fees in Spain. Please note, however, that it will be necessary to pay for activities such as athletic club memberships, if you wish to utilize those services. Non-LHU students are billed LHU tuition and fees plus the $150 International Service Fee.

Academic Calendar

The fall semester begins in late August and ends in December. The spring semester begins in January and ends in late May.

Health Insurance

All students are required to maintain a health insurance policy that will provide coverage for the duration of their stay abroad. Information on international health insurance providers is available from the Center for Global Engagement. You may find that your present health insurance policy includes overseas coverage. It is important, however, that your carrier provide written verification of such coverage. Further information will be provided at orientation.

So, how do I get started?

Simply come by the Center for Global Engagement to pick up an application form. Remember! Applications are due March 1 for the fall term and October 1 for the spring term.
